WE GOT THERE.

ROANOKE KNOCKS HAGERS-TOWN OUT.

OUT BATTED FROM THE BEGINNING

Pat Rollins is a Great Kicker - But He Got There Just the Same - Some Great Hits - What the Detailed Score Shows - Notes of the Game.

Battery for Roanoke - Beck and Keefe. For Hagerstown - Nicholas and Rollins.

The Roanokes paid off old scores yesterday, and the Hagerstons were out batted, out fielded and out played generally. The boys from Maryland were not in it, and from the first they were given the razzle-dazzle notwithstanding the attempts of Rollins to bluff the umpire.

He commenced in two minutes after the game began, and Welch had made a decision against the Hagerstown. He didn't like it and had no hesitation in saying so. He wasn't sustained and threw his mask to the ground and declared that he wouldn't play. But he did all the same, and was the clown of the day. He kept the grand stand in a roar constantly, and without him the game would have been decidedly slow.

The Roanokes went to the bat first and knocked out two tallies in great shape, much to the gratification of their admirers who cheered them enthusiastically. Then the Hagerstons came in with a determined air, picked up the bat and hit out from the right shoulder with a vim that succeeded in putting them even with the other. They played well, and when the Roanokes came in they retired them in short order by skillful playing. The feature of the game was a triple play. Then the visitors took up the bat again and pounded out two tallies, putting the score at the end of the second inning 4 to 2, in their favor.

The play of the third on the Roanoke side, was made by Sproul, who made a great stop in left field, putting out two men. Hagerstown was knocked out in one, two, three order, and the Roanokes boys scored two. The grand stand cheered them as they came in, and the visitors from Maryland looked mighty blue.

The fourth inning was uneventful, and no plays worthy of mention were made. Both clubs were retired without a run, and the score, of course, stood as before. Then the Roanokes took up the cudgel, and at the beginning made a couple of runs by an error of Abigail's. From the first, the boys pounded Nicholas, and even Rollins was rattled and didn't say a word. Beck, who played an errorless game, did some great work, sealing bases, but didn't succeed in making a run. At the end of the fifth, the score stood 7 to 4.

Roanoke drew a goose egg in the sixth inning and Hagerstown succeeded in adding a tally, but it was the last. In the seventh, Kirby put a fly to Earnshaw, Kirby was thrown out, and A. Brodie took the bench by a line fly to Nicholas. Shank took his base on being struck, and Abigail, Rollins and Smith went out on flies to Beck and Kirby.

Keefe made a safe hit in the eighth and stole his way to second. Beck made a sash hit and Keefe went to third. Then Beck was thrown out and Keefe scored, while Wiggins and Sproul were retired at first.

Then the Hagerstons took the stick. Earnshaw was thrown out, by A. Brodie to Kirby. Keefe made a single to center field, and reached second on Wiggins's muff from the return. He got to third on Seely's sacrifice. Then Nicholas struck out and that wound up their little ball of yarn.

The last inning was short and sweet. Ford and Sands were thrown out, by Brodie and Kirby. Brodie made a base hit, but was forced out on Kirby's grounder. Shanks made a safe hit, Hellene struck out, Abigail made a safe hit, Rollins was hit by a batted ball. This ended the game, the score standing 8 to 5 in favor of the Roanokes. Mr. Harry Smythe of the Pocahontas Headlight, Mr. Preston Davis of Rockbridge County, Mr. Phillips of Big Stone Gap, and Others.

Mr. Harry M. Smythe, editor of the Pocahontas Headlight, registered at the Hotel Felix yesterday morning, and is on his return from a trip North, where he went a week ago to purchase material for his paper, which he will shortly remove to the enterprising town of Graham. Mr. Smythe, well known as a Virginia journalist, is six and a half feet tall, with trousers too short, and is partial to the cob pipe. He wears a willed smoking collar, and has recently adopted the plug hat system. Mr. Smythe is an able writer, full of dry wit, and the most popular anecdote teller in Southwest Virginia.

Mr. Preston Davis, of Rockbridge County, arrived in the city yesterday, and is seriously contemplating making a permanent home in the city. Mr. Davis is a representative citizen of that historic county, weighs over 200 pounds and wears No. 5 shoes. He is full of interesting reminiscences of the anti-slavery days, and owned a freight boat on the days of the James River and Kanawha canal. He is welcomed to Roanoke, and would make a useful citizen in the event of his adopting it as a place of residence.

Mr. A. D. Wolff, the genial secretary and treasurer of the Powhatan Coal and Coke Company was at the Hotel Continental yesterday, and leaves on the morning train for his old home in Philadelphia. Mr. Wolff is delighted with the Southwest and thinks that it is destined to take the place of Pennsylvania as an iron and steel center. He is a graduate with a big moult and wears a straw hat. He also expects to make Roanoke his home in the near future and is now wavering between this city and Lynchburg. It is hardly likely, however, that he can resist the fascinations that the days of the Southwest has always for him.

Mr. John Phillips, of Big Stone Gap, was in town yesterday with a large bag full of ore and coal specimens. He left them in care of an experienced geologist, who thinks that they will prove very valuable. Mr. Phillips, who is a bright young man, with a black moustache, did not bring samples of natural gas with him for obvious reasons, but he is confident that it will soon be found in the Southwest, in his opinion, that Roanoke will be illuminated with it. The young man is an enthusiast, a good talker, and there is every reason to believe that he will make his mark in the industrial world.

There were twenty six wagons at the city market this morning, from which the clerk collected $5.20 cartage. On the whole the market is somewhat dull, there being an over-supply of vegetables, the prices of which are on the table.

Good butter can be had in abundance at from fifteen to twenty cents per pound. The prices of new potatoes and spring chickens have also fallen, and these luxuries can now be had for nearly 25 per cent. less than a week ago.

A Pure and Reliable Medicine - A compound fluid extract of roots, leaves, barks and berries is Burdick's Blood Purifier. They cure all diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys.

A beautiful stock of English, American, and French plain and decorated china tea, dinner and toilet sets at B. H. Stewart & Co.'s

It is an established fact that Joseph Cobb, the Salem Avenue clothing, has the finest, largest and best assortment of ready-made clothing in the city. Just listen to what he proposes to do in order to close his entire stock before the season is over. He proposes for today (Saturday), to divide his entire stock into three grades.

First grade, embracing all of his finest suits. You can take your choice for $10.00

Second grade, including all medium business and dress suits from $12.50 to $17 will be sold for $12.50.

Third grade, including all suits formerly sold as high as $12.50 will be sold for $7.50.

We only ask that you consider the above proposition, and if you are not convinced that this is the greatest inducement offered this season by any firm just call and we will soon convince you. Joseph Cobb the Salem Avenue Clothing, Tallor and Hatter, 44 Salem Avenue, Roanoke, Va.

Messrs. Johnson & Johnson have secured the sole agency in this city for Kadam's Microbe Killer. Our Mr. Louis Hall has been suffering for some time with lung trouble. He states that since using the medicine he has experienced great relief, and thinks he will ultimately regain his health.

The best fitting and most stylish suits in the city at Geyer's, on Campbell street.

Marshall's Cafe - For a full course dinner served in a 1st class dining room 1 to 3 for 50 cents.

All our actions take their lines from the complexion of the heart, as landscapes their variety from light.
